

Fiberglass Floating Tail Paint

Overview

Fiberglass surfaces can be tricky, and using the wrong type of paint might lead to peeling or fading. Select Appropriate Paint: Use acrylic latex, polyurethane, or epoxy paint specifically designed for fiberglass to ensure durability and long-lasting results. Painting fiberglass requires specialist coatings that deliver superior adhesion and durability on smooth, non-porous surfaces. Proper Surface Preparation: Thoroughly. Last reviewed April 2026 · Reviewed by the West Marine Technical Team — marine coating specialists with hands-on experience specifying paint systems on fiberglass hulls across saltwater and freshwater environments throughout the United States. The secret to a jaw-dropping. The SM Arnold Refinishing Spray Paint in Doeskin is a professional-grade aerosol that can refresh a variety of surfaces. It's designed for both inside and outside use. This paint is tough and resists fading, cracking, peeling, and rubbing off, making your projects look great for longer.
