

South Sudan Optical Cable

Overview

South Sudan is gearing up to commence construction of a 2,400-kilometre fiber-optic cable that will stretch from the Indian Ocean port, through Kenya, and into South Sudan. The move is part of a broader drive to strengthen the country's digital backbone and reduce reliance on expensive satellite connectivity. According to statement issued by the Ministry, the announcement was made by Engineer Thomas Gatkuoth, Undersecretary in the Ministry. 6Wresearch actively monitors the South Sudan Optical Fiber Cables Market and publishes its comprehensive annual report, highlighting emerging trends, growth drivers, revenue analysis, and forecast outlook. Our insights help businesses to make data-backed strategic decisions with ongoing market. The Ministry of Information, Communication Technology and Postal Services (MOICT&PS) of South Sudan, in partnership with the World Bank, is preparing to start laying a fiber-optic cable from Kenya early next year. This launch was announced by Mabe Emmanuel, Secretary General of the Universal.
